Kitchen safety during Ramadan

Lancashire Fire
and Rescue Service

Aims:

To provide information on kitchen safety that will save your life!

Objectives

To identify hazards
in the kitchen

To state how to keep safe when cooking

To identify how serious fires start
in the kitchen

To state what action to take if a fire starts in your kitchen

Did you know?

Cooking related fires cause one in five of all accidental house fires in the UK.

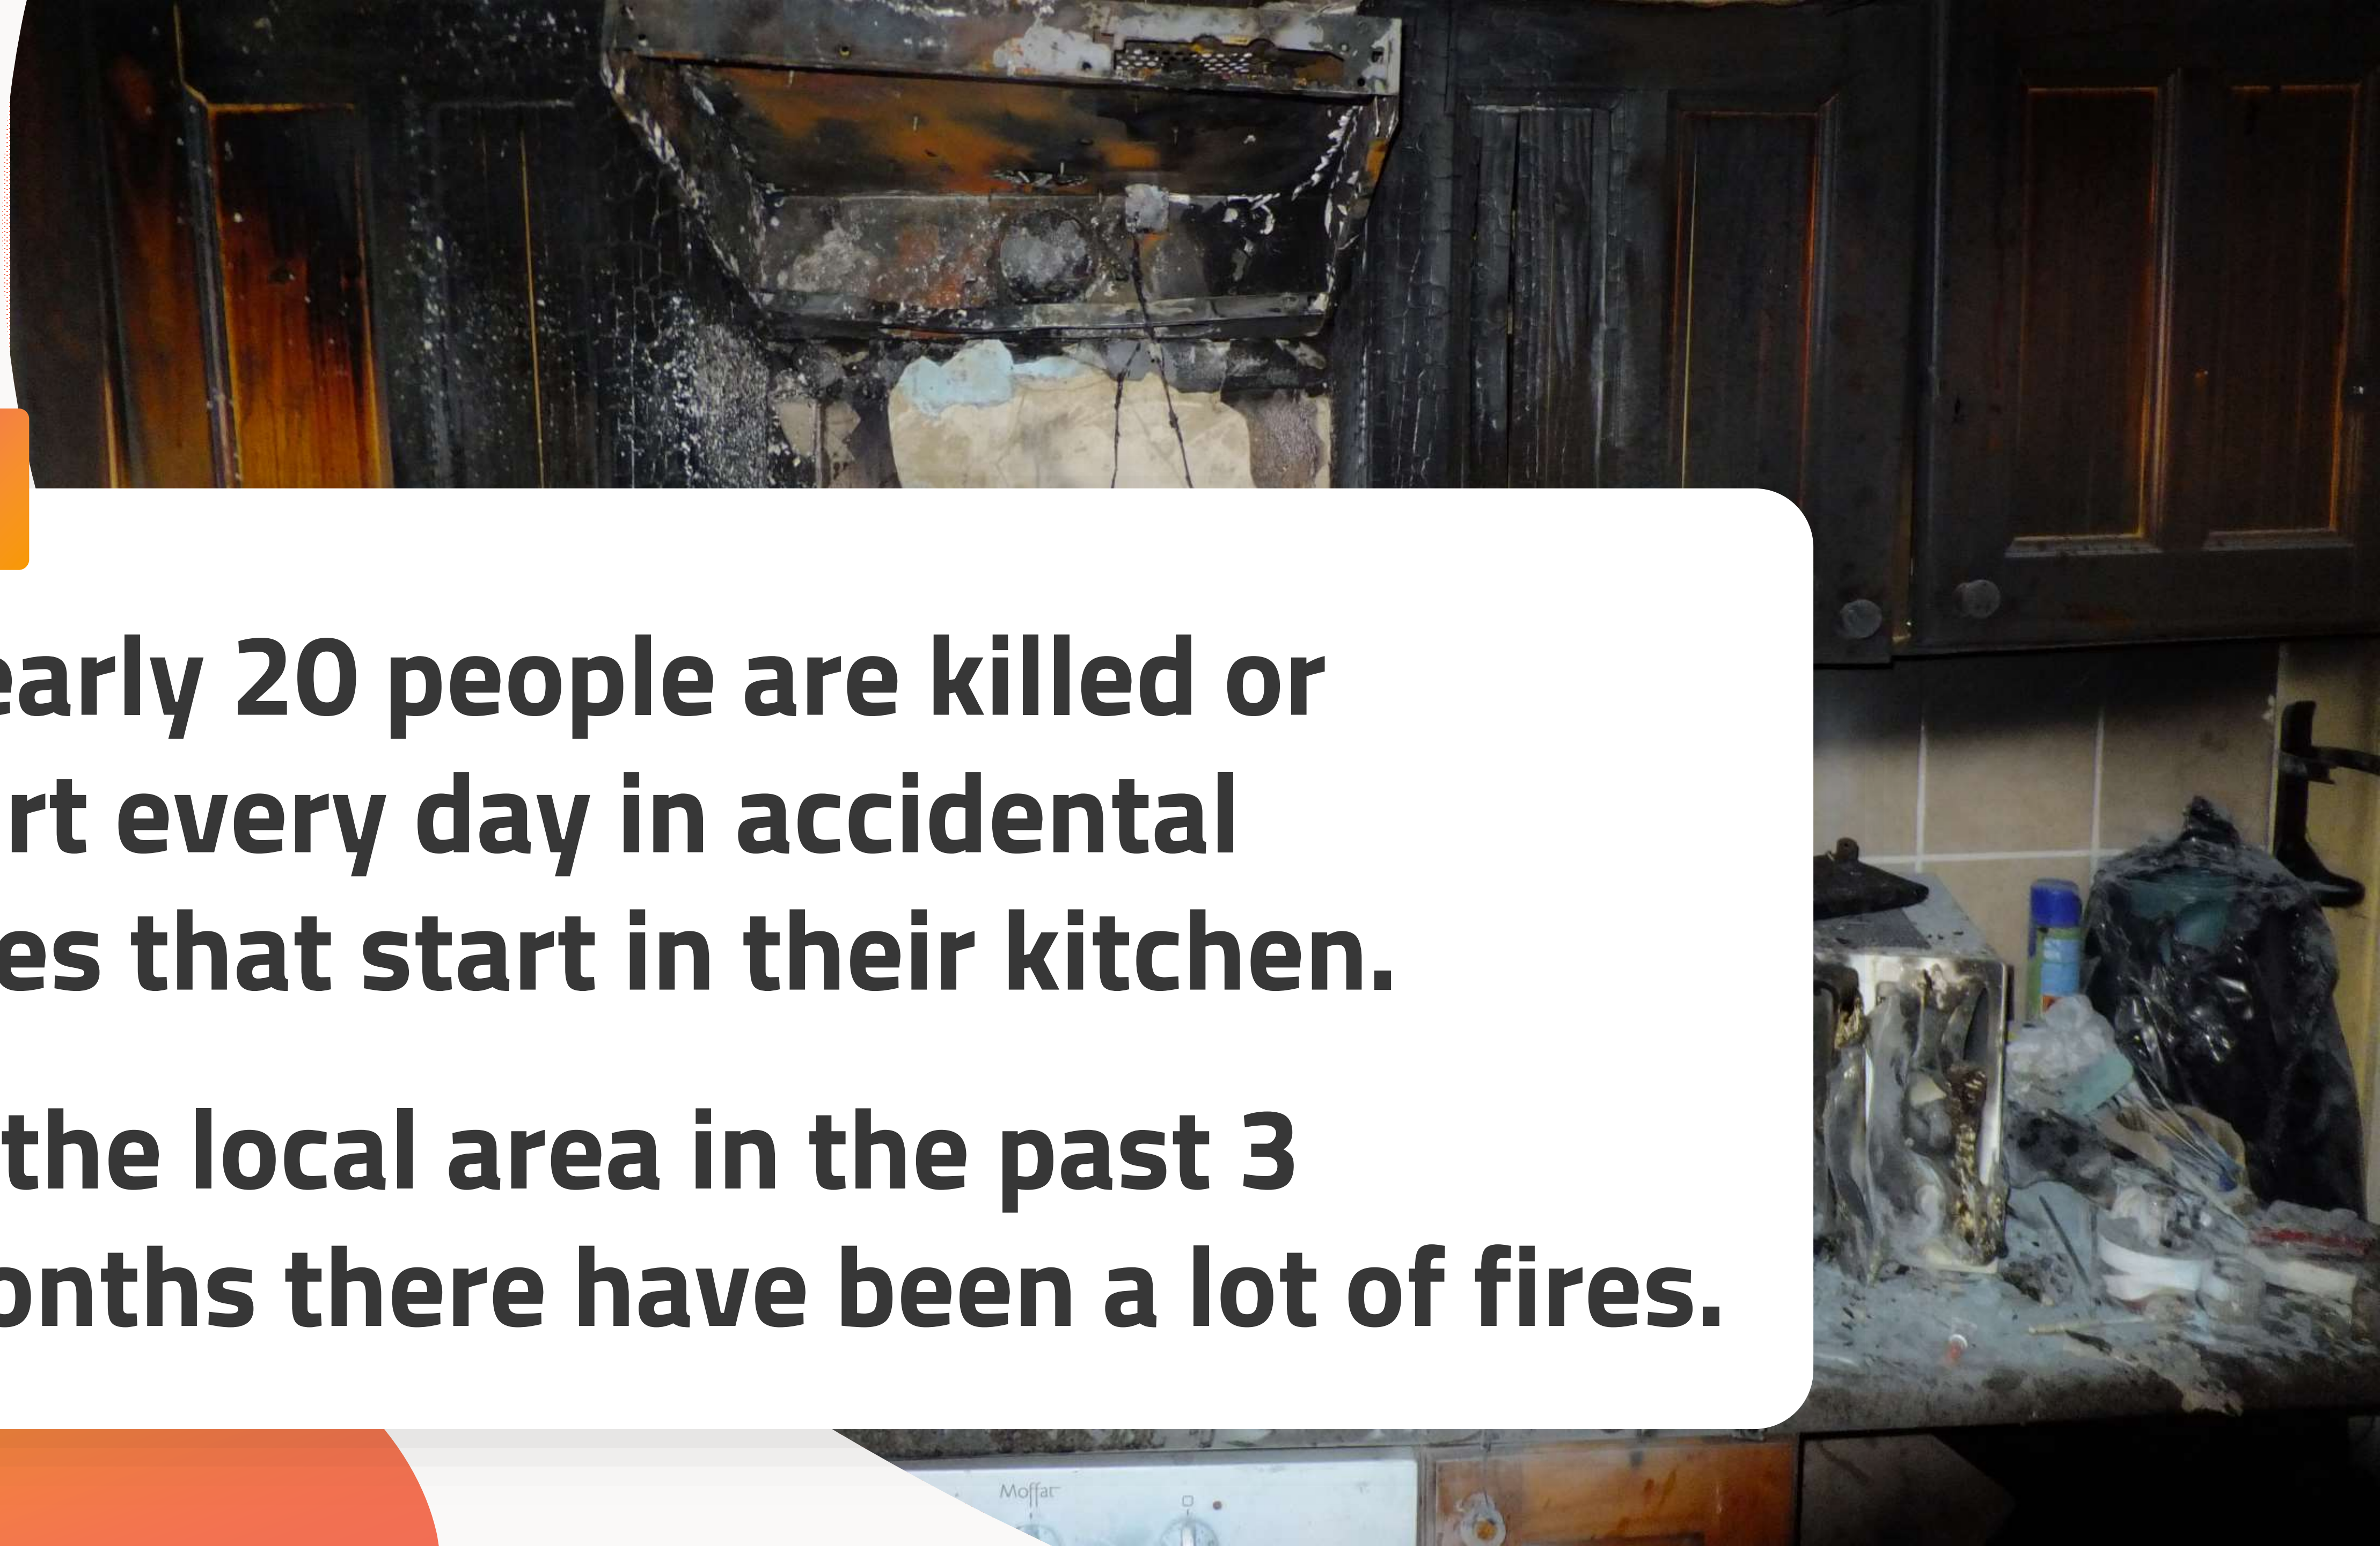

Kitchen fires injure about 7,000 people each year.

Nearly 20 people are killed or hurt every day in accidental fires that start in their kitchen.

In the local area in the past 3 months there have been a lot of fires.

Nearly half of these started in the kitchen!

Kitchen hazards

Keep electrical leads away from water

Do not put too many plugs in the sockets – one plug per socket is the rule

Check the toaster is clean and well away
from curtains

Kitchen hazards

Do not leave appliances such as washing machines or dishwashers on at night

Is the kettle leaking? This can be dangerous

Keep electrical leads from trailing over or going near the cooker

Kitchen hazards

Do not hang tea towels or cloths on or over the cooker

Keep the oven, hob and grill clean. A build-up of fat and bits of food can start a fire

Keep handles of pans away from the edge of the cooker

Kitchen hazards

Make sure you use the back burners/rings first. This reduces the risk of knocking pans off

Cooking safely

A very important point about cooking safely is to avoid being distracted

Most kitchen fires happen when people leave things unattended

Cooking safely

If you are called away from the kitchen – by the phone, or by someone at the door - take pans off the heat

It is the easiest thing in the world to forget about them

Cooking safely

Children running around you are a big distraction

Don't let yourself be distracted while cooking

Cooking safely

Don't cook if you are affected by prescription drugs

Don't put oven gloves or tea towels down on the cooker after you have used them

Did you know?

The hour before Iftari (sunset) is the busiest time in the kitchen during the month of Ramadan

Cooking safely

Take extra care when there are many pans of hot oil on the stove

The hour before Suhoor (sunrise) can also be a hazardous time in the kitchen

Take extra care when cooking when you are tired

Cooking safely

Make sure that all samosa, kebabs and pakoras are fully defrosted and patted dry before putting them in very hot oil

If they are not dry the oil could flare up

Deep fat frying

Never fill the pan more than one third full

Test the temperature with a small piece of bread or potato. If it crisps quickly, the oil is hot enough

Deep fat frying

Do not leave the pan unattended

If the oil starts to smoke, do not put the food in. Turn off the heat and leave it to cool

If there are flames, never throw water over the pan.
It will explode

Deep fat frying

There are about 16,000 hot oil pan fires a year!

Look what happens when you put water on burning oil

Clothing

There have been times where clothing has caught on fire

Try and keep loose clothing (sleeves, scarves etc) tied back

Clothing

Possibly wear an apron or head scarf that is close fitting around the head and neck (hijab)

If you have a kitchen fire

Never move the pan

Turn off the heat (if it is safe to do so). NEVER lean over the pan to the controls

Never try and pick up a pan that has caught fire, or attempt to fight the fire

If you have a kitchen fire

- ✓ Call the Fire and Rescue Service on 999 immediately
- ✗ Do not take risks
- ✓ Have a clear escape route

How to escape in case of fire
